Water Valves Being Stolen from Parks

What appears to be a systematic series of thefts of water valves from the city parks is being investigated by local police. William Gascoigne, street and park superintendent, reported Friday that the valves, whose value was not given, have been

HITS & MISSES

Only six months after 36 out of the 48 states had kicked over the apple cart, ratified the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment way back in December, 1933, John Butta scrambled together a few bottles of beer, a fifth of gin and a demijohn of whiskey and opened the Village Winery & Liquor Store at the corner of Carson and Cabrillo. That was in June 1934. It was the first establishment of its kind in Torrance since the U. S. Secretary of State, on January 16, 1920, declared it unlawful "to engage in the manufacture, sale or transportation of intoxicating liquors."

Since that time John Butta has done well, opened stores in San Pedro, Long Beach, Wilmington, Long Beach and Manhattan, now operates only those in Long Beach, Manhattan and Torrance. Only recently John plunked down some cash, bought the entire building, painted, cleaned and renovated his Village Winery. Spick & span, John hopes the renovated place will help business, offers some hot Remodeling Specials as well as a large stock of all kinds of Giggie Water.

Doc Mitts, many muscle manipulator, likes the definition given members of his profession, i.e. and to wit: A chiropractor is a man who works his fingers to your bones.

Coming to Torrance this week with better than four years experience in the trinket trade, young, quiet, Charlie Ellen (rhymes with nine) took off his coat & hat, sat down in the back room of Alden Smith's Jewelry Emporium, went to work mending jewelry, fixing clocks, polishing silver. Employed to assist Richard "Mainprings" Brunswick, Charlie will take care of odd jobs, take the heat off Richard, make himself generally useful. Charlie is a watchmaker himself, is unmarried, went to Compton J. C., only recently graduated with top honors from a Los Angeles School of Horology (science of watchmaking, to you! Shop Talk didn't say so either.) Charlie will prove a big help to both Alden and Richard, take some of the load off their shoulders.

The Eighth Anniversary last week of Alcorn's Drug, on Torrance Blvd., saw pop. Harry Alcorn, usually so affable & good natured, sick & bed. Started several months ago when he alone attempted to lift a monstrous show case, Harry has been ailing ever since. Shop Talk wishes him a speedy recovery.

Boasting a name that is sorely needed in these disquieting times is Joe Faith (who has NO sisters named Hope & Charity). Joe only this week took over active management of Kenny Ruffell's Carson St. Shoe Repair Shop, will operate it on old "Buckskin" plan. Nebraska born and raised, Joe Faith has been in Torrance but a year and a half, but has saved soles since he... in his own words... "was knee high to a Nebraska grasshopper." As a get-together-and-let's-be-friends special Joe, this week-end, is offering half soles as low as 50c. Ken, Joe, on Sartori Ave. is making the same offer.

Area Around 241st and Walnut Due for Extensive Exploration

Many oil operators who have held up work on new projects pending the outcome of Ray Wilson's No. 3 at 241st and Walnut, are now expected to go ahead with their plans as result of the showing of oil sand at the Wilson well at 4,976 feet.

The Wilson hole is reported to have encountered oil sand somewhat higher on the structure than other wells in the Eshelman area. Near the southwest corner of 242nd and Walnut, R. M. Harris has staked location for a well. Saxon Petroleum has started foundation for a well northwest of 242nd and Eshelman.

Three more new operators have entered the Eshelman "hot spot." Lone Star Drilling has spudded a well at 258th and Eshelman; C. W. Hammack and associates have staked location southwest of 257th and Eshelman and Main Oil will start a well at 240th and Eshelman.

Drilling activity, held up on several proposed projects until several key extension wells were completed, is expected to resume rush proportions next week. In the northern part of the field Campet Oil's Kleinmyer No. 17A is being watched with interest.

Cuba Oil is preparing to complete its No. 2 well from 5,100 feet on 257th between Eshelman and Walnut, offsetting J. E. Peltz's No. 1. Century Oil has spudded in its H. F. Smith No. 1.

FIGHTS CLOSURE... Robert Stewart Odell, president of the Pacific States Savings and Loan company, which was temporarily closed and taken over by the California Building and loan commission. Stewart, who in five years rose to the head of the $60,000,000 firm from a hotel clerk, charged in San Francisco the closure was a "political confiscation."

Uncle of Local Woman Succumbs
Charles T. Prewett, 75, uncle of the Misses Hattie Prewett and Bivins Mills Prewett of this city, died at his home in Fort Worth, Texas, last Friday night. Funeral services were conducted Monday afternoon and burial was in Greenwood cemetery. Mr. Prewett was also survived by a daughter-in-law, three nephews, and three other nieces.

of the Torrance Feed Store. Tom, feeling sprightly as a spring chick this week, grabbed a sack of feed, hoisted it to his shoulder, started out to the street. On the sidewalk Tom stopped on a small rock, twisted his ankle, fell kerplunk. Now he's in bed with a swollen joint while his oldest son is doing a bang-up job of running the store. (Shop Talk must get a son who can write this blasted thing if & when Shop Talk ever twists a brain cell?)
